

Institute of Ophthalmology

Associated with

Moorfields Eye Hospital

Intensive 5 Day Revision Course in Basic Sciences For Ophthalmic Exams

Monday 23 February to Friday 27 February 2015

This 5-day intensive revision course covers the major topics examined for the Royal College of Ophthalmologists' FRCOphth Part I Fellowship and International Council of Ophthalmology's Basic Science assessments. The course also includes theoretical optics & refraction, plus advice on exam techniques, taught by experts in the field (UCL Institute of Ophthalmology, Moorfields Eye Hospital & other departments).

Course

Biology of the cell

Nervous system and vision

Immunology

Pharmacology

Optics & Theoretical Refraction

Anatomy of the head and neck

General physiology

Microbiology

General Principles of pathology

Course fee: £550

Discounted rates are available for overseas participants from developing countries

Price includes refreshments, lunches, plus course materials.

Deadline for Applications: 9 February 2015

Course Director: Dr Virginia Calder

Application forms and further information can be obtained from:

Andrew Dehany, Education Assistant, UCL Institute of Ophthalmology,
11-43 Bath Street, London EC1V 9EL, UK, Direct Line: +44 (0) 20 7608 6878

Email: msc.ioo@ucl.ac.uk or l.kilpert@ucl.ac.uk